ABOUT HITORI

HITORI helps innovative enterprises & startups improve productivity, evolve archaic systems and turn great app ideas into working products.

We dedicate the time required to fully understand your project, help validate and commercialise your idea, provide fixed quotes or pay by the hour arrangements and deliver on-time. Our web & mobile app developers in Melbourne have experience across a range of industries and clientele from startups and SME's through to blue-chip enterprises and medical institutions such as Schweppes, Dulux, Austin Health and The Alfred.

In addition to our core web & mobile app development focus we provide a range of digital services including UX/UI design, website development, e-commerce, digital marketing and strategy.

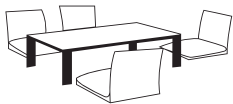

What does it mean?

ONE AGENCY. ONE USER.
ONE PERSON.

The person who is reading this on our website right now, in front of a desktop computer, tablet device or smartphone; that is you! HITORI app developers Melbourne design and develop apps and websites for the end user. Solutions that are visually appealing and inviting, highly usable and beneficial for a business. So if you haven't guessed yet, 'Hitori' is the Japanese word for One Person; you, the end user.

WE THINK.
DESIGN. INVOLVE.
DEVELOP. SUPPORT.

OUR PROCESS

WE THINK.

Careful thought and planning are crucial to the success of your web & mobile app development project. This stage includes project discussions, digital strategy and wire-framing.

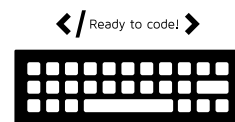

WE DESIGN.

Design is not only the look, but the overall 'feel' of a product. Our UX/UI designers and app developers will ensure the design and interaction are seamless.

WE INVOLVE.

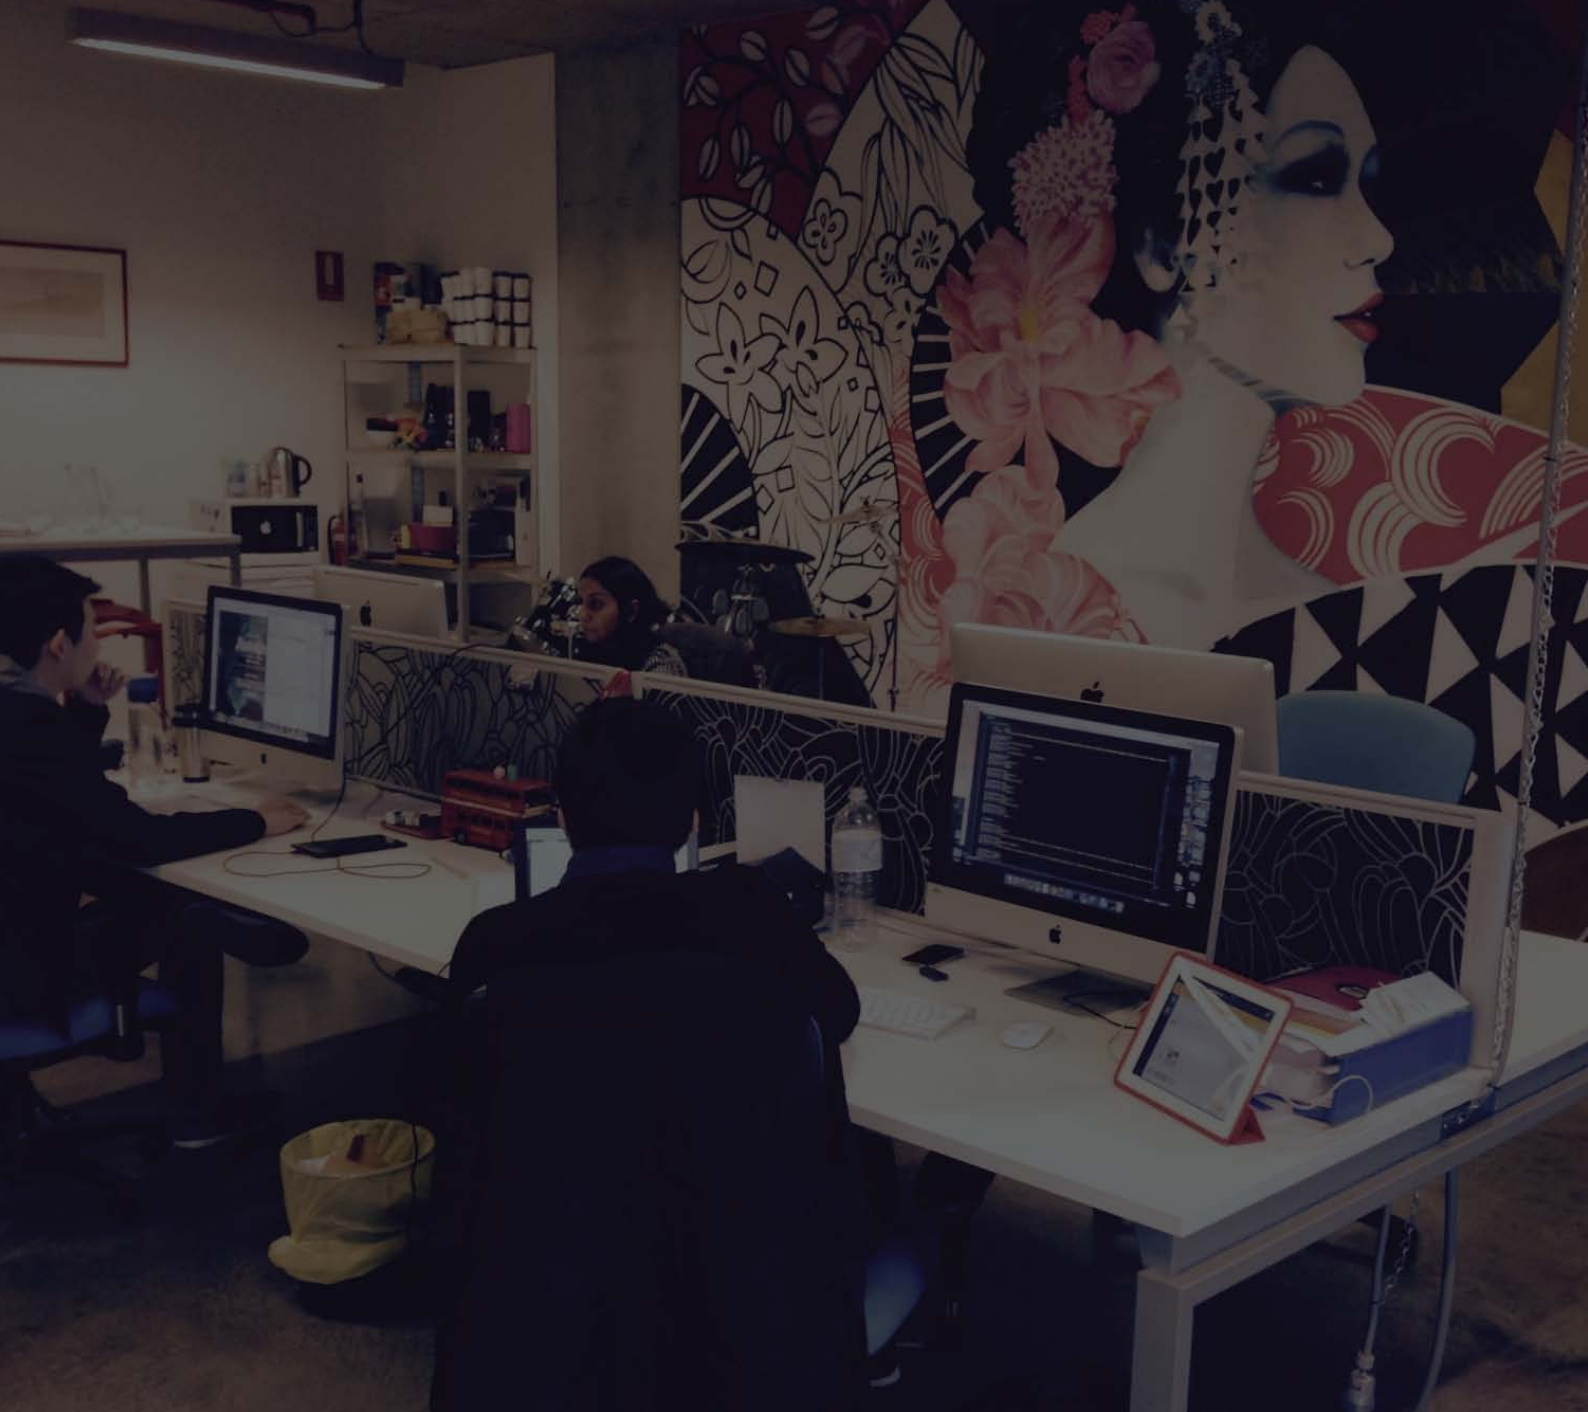

We continuously involve our clients to ensure the final product will exceed goals from both a business and user experience stand point.

WE DEVELOP + SUPPORT.

This is where the aspirations of the project move from concept to reality. We complete app development and then support you on-going through a tiered range of support options.

We provide fixed quotes or pay by the hour arrangements and deliver on-time.
